A Message from
Secretary of State
Jesse White

Dear Friends:

Illinois colleges and universities are not only diverse institutions of research, athletics and higher learning, they also serve as centers for cultural exchange and understanding.

With this in mind, it is an honor for me to recognize Illinois colleges and universities – their students, faculty, staff and alumni – by offering Illinois motorists collegiate license plates for their vehicles. By doing so, you can help support financial scholarships for college students in Illinois while displaying your pride for your favorite school or alma mater. It's a great way to let people know you are part of the team and support higher education in Illinois.
